OBJECT TO REDUCING MINES DEPARTMENT TO STATUS OF A BUREAU

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The new reorganization code, which yesterday passed second reading in the Senate and was recommended to the House committee for public hearing today, makes provision for the reduction of the Department of Mines to the status of a bureau in the Department of Public Instruction.

According to the code in its present form the general direction and control of mines will be through a bureau in the Department of Labor and the mine inspectors examining board will be under the Department of Public Instruction.

The State Mine Inspectors Examining Board to consist of the superintendent of public instruction, chief of the mining branch of the Department of Labor and Industry, two mining engineers, one experienced in the bituminous field and the other in the anthracite field, and two bituminous and two anthracite miners, who have had five years' practical experience. Originally this board was to have had four mining engineers on its membership.

The revision struck out of the code a provision which would have prevented inspectors, mine foremen, assistant mine foremen and fire bosses from being eligible for membership on the examining board so long as they occupy official positions at the mines.

The chief of the mining branch of the Department of Labor and Industry is to be chairman of the board of examiners. This official must have the qualifications of a mine inspector. The number of mine inspectors in both fields remains at present, and the salary is fixed at $1,800 a year.

Two were revived, however, and are able to be about today. Brennan, however, had died. All three of the men were cold when Flynn discovered them. It is believed that Brennan was unable to withstand the effects of the liquor the men drank.

City police were notified and officers made an investigation. The body was removed to the funeral parlors of C. C. Mitchell and prepared for burial. It is known that Brennan was married but the whereabouts of his wife are unknown. An effort is being made to locate her. He had been here for several months.

Improvement IS DESIRED

Property owners of Snydertown and City Council, are nearer together in the differences arising over the plan for the improvement of Snyder street as a result of a conference a week ago at Snydertown and discussion at a special meeting of Council Monday evening.

A delegation of citizens attended the meeting and there seemed to be a general desire that the work proceed. It was agreed that a petition containing an agreement to release the city from damages be circulated and presented at the next meeting of Council, Monday, May 14.

There will be little grading required, Mr. Ash said. He added that the ground is soft and easily removed and that water and gas lines are at sufficient depth, also that the street is sewerd. Now Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Washington, D. C.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation which a physician said I would have to have for a very bad case of female trouble. My system was all run down for two years after my little girl was born. Then I read of your wonderful medicine and decided to try it. I could hardly drag one foot after the other, and after taking six bottles of the Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman. I now do all my housework, also washing and ironing, and do not know what real trouble is. My health is fine, and I weigh 140 pounds. When I started taking it I weighed 90 pounds. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any one who is suffering from female trouble or is run down. You may use this testimonial for I am only too glad to let suffering women know what the Vegetable Compound did for me."—Mrs. IDA HEWITT, 1620 Penna. Ave., S. E., Washington, D. C.

"But after you had gone away, sir, I got to thinkin' how you'd reached your hand over the rail and scratched the pig's back until he lay down with the pleasure of it. I made up my mind then that when a man was so sociable as that with a poor fellow creature I wasn't the man to vote against him."—Harper's Magazine.

Why divide the family at breakfast?

WHY take coffee for yourself, while saying "No" to the children? It is true, as most parents are careful to explain, that little folks should not endanger health and growth through the drug element in coffee and tea, but—

Your health is valuable, too—and their desire for a hot drink with breakfast may be as great as yours.

There's complete satisfaction in Postum, and safety alike for young and old. Postum is a pure cereal beverage. It is coffee-like in color and flavor, but free from any element that can harm. Thousands who are now saying "No" to themselves as well as to the children, as a safeguard against coffee-ills, have found better comfort and better health, in Postum.

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer the flavor brought out by boiling fully 20 minutes. The cost of either is about one-half cent a cup.

Is Your Wife Marooned During the Day?

Have you ever considered what is meant by the hundreds of cars parked in the business sections during working hours?

Most of them carried business men to work, leaving their wives and families at home, marooned because the family's one car is in daily use by the husband and father.

Chevrolet Utility Coupe with high-grade body makes an ideal extra car, especially in combination with a 5-passenger touring or sedan.

The wife finds it of every day utility for shopping, calling, taking the children to school in bad weather, etc. Its price and upkeep are low yet the quality is high.

MAKING ROOM FOR AUTOMOBILES.

Twenty-three hundred automobiles passing Murphy's Station in 12 hours!

An average of almost 200 cars per hour or more than three per minute, was the record of Sunday. Hag the count born kept at Brinsford Corner the average would have been very much greater, that being the intersection of the two principal thoroughfares in this section.

With this as the record at the beginning of the season, what will be a few weeks or months hence when the tide of highway travel is at its peak?

And that question prompts still others, such as, for instance, how will our highways and streets be able to accommodate the traffic within the next few years, if the increase in the number of motor-driven vehicles continues at the present rate? Where will parking room be found for cars
in the towns and cities?

Already Connelville and all other towns on the main-traveled roads are encountering difficulty in providing parking accommodations. On Saturday nights and busy days the streets where parking is allowed are filled with lines of cars reaching almost to the outskirts.

To make parking regulations that will relieve the congestion, which is fast approaching a serious stage, will require very careful thought and study and wise planning if future needs in this direction are to be taken into account. Many cities in different parts of the country are now applying themselves to a solution of the problem, the difficulties and complexities of which more clearly appear when an effort is made to work it out.

In this connection the recent passage by the Legislature of the Zoning Act for third-class cities, which authorizes the enactment of ordinances creating a zoning commission and defining its powers and the procedure thereunder, is of interest.
While the primary object is to regulate the division of municipalities into residential, business and industrial sections, zoning has been found to be one of the essentials or preparatory steps in working out a comprehensive system of traffic regulation. This is true because zoning is the first requirement in planning for the expansion of a town along definite lines which have regard for future growth and needs of the municipality.

Some cities no larger than Con-nelville are included in the list of those engaged in consideration of zoning plans, the local authorities realizing that something must be done to keep their municipalities in step with modern progress which has brought about conditions with respect to use of the streets that had been thought to be only remotely possible, not a recently established fact.

It would appear, therefore, that if Connelville wishes to retain its place as a forward looking municipality, there could now be profitably spent by members of the City Council in a study of the zoning proposition as preliminary to, or in conjunction with, traffic regulations which will make adequate provision for the increase in the number of motor vehicles and thereby avoid congestion which will become a still more difficult problem the longer a solution of it is delayed.

at the Theatres

THE PARAMOUNT.

LADDER JINKS.—Showing at this theatre, presents Tully in the stellar role. Little touch which adds a laugh to Ladder Jinks, came in the quite by accident. The action of that Margaret Landis should her arms around Edward Horrock and kiss him enthusiastically while he was driving a high speed car at a thirty-mile-an-hour. It was expected that the car would be swerving in a serpentine up the street. When the scene actually made, there was plenty of "verve"—perhaps Miss Landis's as a little bit too vehement. At the car, after making several extraordinary curves, finally dived up on the sidewalk and went into a high stone wall, as going a little bit too strong in its enthusiasm," said Edward Horrock, as he surveyed the smashed of his roadster. "If we try this let's have the wall made of 'mache'."

Monday and Thursday, "Too Business," will be shown.

THE SOISSON.

FIFTY LAST.—Harold Lloyd's astute thrill comedy, the feature for today, Wednesday and Thursday at this theatre, is attracting breaking crowds. Wherever "Fifty Last" is shown, it unquestionably wins the applause of the audience. But even the most ardent applause can't compare the cheering of the crowd that saw the filming of the climb in "Fifty Last." Somehow the news out that the famous comedian used the Bank of Italy building corner of First and Spring in Los Angeles to film a scene of his forthcoming production. Three hours before the camera arrived, the streets around the building were crowded with admirers of the star. When Harold appeared on the scene, he was not only red, and as the directors and men made their preparations, and settled down, expecting to film of a comic scene. They instead, one of the most daring ever performed for the camera. Harold continued his climb, the audience showed its appreciation without interest, applauding and then at some especially a performance by the star, but, whole, watching the comedian's admiration.

THE ORPHEUM.

ROBIN HOOD.—Douglas Fairbank photoplay, which opened at this theatre for a four week run, is said to be the greatest production in which the actor has ever appeared. Robin Hood, in history or legend, had more to the imagination for his power of winning more than Robin Hood, whose s in the Twelfth Century solve that era as one in which the of chivalry reached its zenith. Robin Hood, in the memory of man, was given such a magnificent opportunity to be inspired partly so brilliantly. Douglas Fairbank's mastery portrayal of this character in his photoplay, "Robin Hood," which is sure to enhance the riv of this hero since this film will live just as any great with a historical background as the outlastings of time. That Robin Hood was a great lover, every of his meteoric career told. He was noted for the manner in which he so rigidly enforced the respect for all women. He devoted to a maximum degree and never failed to resent any show of undue misconduct toward the sex. His manner of resentment was always most unpleasant for the other, too. In order to appreciate kind of order was characteristic of this heroic defender of womanhood has only to contemplate one accredited to him.

May and Saturday Wallace Reid is seen in "Thirty Days."

Where Your Money Goes

THE only concern of its kind in the nation, is a claim of ours that sometimes is questioned. Yet it is true. There are any number of financial underwriters—good ones that do a splendid service in encouraging legitimate business enterprises. These concerns and their banking connections are responsible for much of the wonderful industrial development of the United States. All of these, however, deal in new promotions as well as in handling re-financing and new issues of going concerns. The H. L. Beach Company does not engage in new promotions—that is, in selling stock for newly-organized companies. We sell to the public only stocks of going concerns that have good records as to earnings over a period of years.

Our business is founded on the belief that there are surer profits to the investing public in the securities of established concerns than in the issues of business organizations new and untried. We believe also that industry and prosperity are developed along more sound, safe lines through helping going concerns than in putting money into brand new enterprises.

The field for such financing is so vast we have often wondered why it was never developed before and why, as specialists, we are alone in it today.

The H. L. Beach Company is satisfied to let others have the new promotions. Our profits are smaller, but they are never uncertain. There is a wholesome satisfaction in this business. It makes us friends and keeps these friendly. And it is a matter of record that every stock sold by the H. L. Beach Company is today held by the issuing company at a price at least 25 per cent above par.

Well Known Conneltsville Man Again Well

"A NEW MAN" HE SAYS

The farmer's lot is a hard one at the best. From early morn till nightfall there is work to be done. But to have a large farm and the soil at the same time is an almost unbearable hardship.

For the past three years William Danderson the owner of a large and prosperous farm just outside of the city, a man well known to everyone in Conneltsville, has been sick. And during these years he has had to be actively engaged in the running of the farm. His sufferings are due to stomach trouble, rheumatism was multiplied by the physical labor attached to planting and in growing his crops. Then he found DRECO and after taking one bottle he writes this:

"For three years I have been suffering with stomach trouble that made it impossible for me to enjoy a meal. After a night's sleep it was agony for me to rise from the pillow, my joints and back ached so badly.

"Then, 'He continues,' I heard of DRECO and the wonderful results some people obtained from it. So I bought a bottle.

"After taking this one bottle, my rheumatism left me and I could eat. 'DRECO made a new man of me.'

DRECO, being a combination of the juices and extracts of herbal plants, combines very readily with the juices of the stomach and that is why its action is so prompt and so positive. It is soon noticed after taking DRECO the gas stops forming, the food digests perfectly giving strength to the entire body and renewing vigor and vitality.

DRECO is being introduced to the people of Conneltsville by the Conneltsville Drug Company. Call on them. Let them tell you of the merits of this wonderful remedy. They will happily tell you whether or not they think DRECO will benefit you. Advertisement.

THREE RUN DOWN BY MOTORISTS AT MOUNT PLEASANT

Driver of Car Which Hits Two Women Put on Speed and Escapes.

BOY IS BADLY CRUSHED

Special to The Courier.
MOUNT PLEASANT, May 8.—On Sunday morning when Mrs. Anna Overholt and granddaughter, Miss Eva Plotner, were going from their Church street home to the Methodist Episcopal Sunday School, as they had crossed Washington street to the other side of Church street, a man driving a touring car came out Church street. Failing to make the turn down Washington street, he ran onto the sidewalk in front of the Journal office and struck Mrs. Overholt and Miss Plotner. A foreign man going along came to the assistance of Mrs. Overholt, who was badly bruised, and Miss Plotner, who was scratched along her knees where she struck the sidewalk. The man in the car backed off the sidewalk and started as fast he could.

Boy Run Down.
Elvin Neel, four years old, who makes his home with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Horner, on Dunker Hill was run over by a truck near his grandparents' home yesterday afternoon. The left leg was crushed and he was rushed to the Memorial Hospital, where an effort is being made to save it. At first it was thought it might be necessary to amputate.

All Society Meeting.
Mrs. William Andrew entertained the Re-Union Presbyterian Aid Society at her home last evening at a business and social session.

Vocation School Underway.
The Ministerial Association held a meeting yesterday afternoon in the Re-Union Presbyterian Church at which it was discussed the union church vocation school to open June 11 and to close July 13 with a picnic to follow the next week. The committee in charge is made up of Rev. J. E. Hartman, Rev. J. A. Erbe and Rev. Paul Stonestor. The sermon to graduates of the high school will be preached by Rev. J. D. Good in the United Brethren Church.

Traffic Count at Bessemer.
From 6 A. M. Sunday morning until 6 A. M. Monday morning 2,399 automobiles passed the forks of the road at Bessemer, near Mount Pleasant.

News of Council.
Council met in its regular monthly meeting last evening. Mr. Fenton and Mr. Barnhart asked for a driveway to the new filling station they hope to erect at the Diamond. No action taken on the matter.

Dr. John L. Burkholder and Dr. B. M. Loar, representing the Good Roads Association, asked that council help the good roads movement by repaving some of the streets in town that need it so badly. It was decided to begin in Washington street. M. D. L. Brooks asked permission to erect a porch on East Main street and was refused, as council did not like the kind of porch he was going to erect. Petitions for the sewerage of Oak and Spruce streets were put in the hands of the proper committees.

John McDonald was given permission to construct a private sewer at his home.

Burgess Overholt stated that beginning with Friday night he had ordered that all boys under 18 years old being out after 12 o'clock be arrested.

It was decided that the borough should grade Yoder avenue.

It was decided to pay the driver of the borough truck 50 cents an hour.

Paul Eable installed.

The volunteer fire department has installed a pool table in its rooms in the borough building.

Kellogg's Bran gives permanent relief because it is ALL BRAN!

Every member of your family will enjoy better health—eat better, work better, sleep better—if they eat Kellogg's Bran regularly. In natural, positive work for health is actually a blessing to humanity! Kellogg's gives permanent relief from constipation because it is ALL BRAN! It is scientifically prepared to relieve suffering humanity from constipation.
Kellogg's Bran cleans and purifies the drainage channel; it cleans away toxic poisons and frees you from the travails of such dread diseases as Bright's, diabetes, etc., as well as sick headaches, rheumatism and mental and physical depression. A week's trial of this great nature food will prove that its work for health is wonderful!
Consider Kellogg's Bran as a food.
It is not a laxative nor a medicine.
Bran is the outer coating of whole wheat and contains such nourishment factors as mineral salts and other elements vital in sustaining life!

Kellogg's Bran is cooked and all ready to eat. It is delightful as a cereal, or sprinkled over your favorite hot or cold cereal. Another popular way to eat it is to cook or mix it with a hot cereal. In preparation, add two tablespoonfuls of bran for each person.
Delicious bakery batches are made with Kellogg's Bran. Recipes are printed on each package.
DO TWO THINGS—Eat Kellogg's
Bran each day for permanent relief from constipation and be certain to eat at least two tablespoonfuls; in chronic cases, with each meal.
First-class hotels, clubs and restaurants serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. Ask for it at your restaurant. All grocers.

GULBRANSEN The Player-Piano

The Gulbransen Educates, Inspires, Entertains

Your son—your daughter—will take the Gulbransen right into their hearts and lives. First playing for the pure love of fun, they will unconsciously progress to an understanding and appreciation of the very best in music.

Your wife—and you, yourself—after the day's cares, need mental and moral stimulation. Surely the Gulbransen, playing delightfully any piece of music you wish to hear, provides that.

The Gulbransen entertains—and educates and inspires as it entertains. It will lift you out of the rut, broaden your vision, and make for higher ideals in your home life.

The Gulbransen is easy to play—and easy to play well. You'll be surprised how quickly you become skilled—how soon you learn to bring out the very soul of music. Four simple instructions "rolls" easily teach you how.

Work of Putting Fayette Field Into Condition for Ball Season Is Held Off

No Money Will Be Expended on Grounds Until Circus Has Gone.

FIRST GAME ON MAY 19

It was announced this morning that work on the grounds at Fayette Field, in preparation for the opening of baseball season would not begin until after next Saturday. John Robinson's circus will be here then and the club does not intend to make any outlay of money until after that date. The opening game will be on Saturday, May 19, with Smithton. It had been the intention to open on May 12 but because of the coming of the circus the opening was postponed.

The members of the team are working out in their respective districts. The only thing which will be required of Field Manager Patterson will be to weld his material into a cohesive playing machine.

On paper the Independents look fine, the line-up showing a string of real hitters. The first real test will likely fall on Memorial Day when two games will be played—in the morning and afternoon—with the Homestead Grays.

After that date the club management is anticipating trying out some enough to support two ball games a week and a whirl at the plan will be taken by the Independents. Games will begin between 5 and 5:30 o'clock and if they prove as popular here as in other towns, the venture will be a success.

Local fans are watching the progress of the team with interest. Hope is expressed that the town will be able to secure a good enough aggregation to make a meeting between the teams a real ball game.

OFFICIALS TO HAVE CHARGE OF COUNTY TRACK MEET NAMED

Many of the officials who will be in charge of the annual field meet of the Fayette County Intercollegiate Athletic Association, to be held at Dawson Park Grounds on Saturday, May 12, have been selected. A few field judges and track judges are yet to be named.

Sidney Nicholson of Uniontown will be the referee and Harold Kennedy, also of Uniontown, will be clerk of the course. Matty Bain, another Uniontown man, will be starter. John Gatz, Jr., account executive of the county seat, and G. DeWitt Hyatt, physical instructor at the Uniontown Y. M. C. A., will be timers. Both are experts, it is said, and will be satisfactory to all concerned.

Rev. F. A. Hodell, pastor of the Third Presbyterian Church of Uniontown, and J. S. Albright, editor of the Evening Gazette, a Uniontown publication, will be official scorers.

Five field judges and five track judges will also be selected. Two of the former, Mr. Wyatt and Mr. Frank, are from Uniontown and the other three will be representatives from other sections entered in the meet. Mr. McElvaine of Uniontown and Mr. Thompson of Redstone township are track judges, with three yet to be named.

GONE! SHE SAYS HEADACHE INDIGESTION

Dare's Mentha-Pepsin
Did it---Is Glad to Say

Get rid of your woe, distressed stomach and turn it into a strong, able one, capable of digesting the heartiest food.

And while you are doing this, as you easily can, build up your entire system and feel fine, full of pep and as vigorous as of old.

That's what Dare's Mentha-Pepsin will do for people who have stubborn rebellious stomachs---it is doing so for thousands every day---it won't do it for you unless you give it a chance.

Ask Connelville Drug Company or any other good druggist about it. He will tell you that not only does it give quick relief when gas, sourness, heartburn bother, but it will permanently end the most severe stomach trouble in a short time.

"Gentlemen---I am 55 and have had stomach trouble for 30 years and for the last 10 have been unable to do much work. I had terrible spells of cramps and everything I ate caused gas to form in stomach and bowels. I had nervous distress that was terrible.

"The first dose of Dare's Mentha-Pepsin helped me. It stopped the gas and pain and it is just the medicine I need. I wish all men and women who would try it."---Mrs. J. E. Martin, 418 Johnson street, Knoxville, Tenn.---Advertisement.

KEYSTONE COMPANY EMPLOYEES WILL LOSE NO TIME OVER FIRE

GREENSBURG, May 8.---Quick work on the part of officials of the Keystone Coal & Coke Company following the disastrous fire which destroyed the washery and tipple of its works at Salemville, near New Alexandria, on Saturday, resulted yesterday in the announcement that none of the men employed would lose more than the one day of work.

It was announced that coal mined at Salemville would be taken by an underground route to the Huron plant of the company and that it would be put through the washery at the latter place, to be returned later to Salemville to be made into coke.

Orders for the erection of a new tipple to replace the one burned down have already gone forward and the job will be rushed to completion.

The Keystone Coal & Coke Company also made the statement that the good work on the part of the three companies sent from Greensburg to fight the fire and also the work of other volunteers kept the loss as low as it was. The damage was estimated at $100,000.

From Any Sort of Stomach Trouble.

Read what Boyd Wile, of Newell, W. Va., has to say about Dr. Orth's Stomach Prescription:

Gentlemen---"I suffered with acidity of the stomach for eight months, trying a dozen different kinds of medicine, with no results. Am feeling fine, have had no stomach trouble since, and am pleased to recommend it to any one having stomach trouble."

Any person suffering from any sort of stomach trouble, acute or chronic, who does not say that Dr. Orth's Stomach Remedy is better than anything they ever took for stomach distress, indigestion or dyspepsia, or for any reason whatever, can have their money refunded.

CHAPTER XI

A Band of Guerrillas.
 Madeline bolted the door, and, flying into the kitchen, she told the several servants to shut themselves in. Then she ran to her own room. It was only a matter of a few moments for her to close and bar the heavy shutters, yet even as she was fastening the last one in the room she used as an office a clattering roar of hoofs seemed to swell up to the front of the house. She caught a glimpse of wild, shaggy horses and ragged, dusty men. She had never seen any vagabonds that resembled these horsemen. Vagabonds had been and still are; they were fond of lace and glitter and ritz; they dressed their horses in silvered trappings, but the riders now tramping into the driveway were uncouth, lean savans. They were guerrillas, a band of the raiders who had been harassing the border since the beginning of the revolution. A second glimpse assured Madeline that they were not all Mexicans.

The presence of outlaws in that band brought home to Madeline her rent danger. She remembered what Stillwell had told her about recent outlaw raids along the Rio Grande. These flying bands, operating under the excitement of the revolution, appeared here and there, everywhere, in remote places, and were gone as quickly as they came. Mostly they wanted money and arms, but they would steal anything, and unprotected women had suffered at their hands.

Madeline, hurriedly collecting her securities and the considerable money she had in her desk, ran out, closed and locked the door, and fled the path to the opposite side of the house, and, entering again, went down a long corridor, trying to decide which of the many unused rooms would be best to hide in. And before she made up her mind she came to the last room. It was in a hattering on door or window in the direction of the kitchen and still screams from the servant women increased Madeline's alarm.

She entered the last room. There was no lock or bar upon the door. But the room was large and dark, and it was half full of piles of stuff. Probably it was the safest place in the house, and she thought she would be easy to find any one hidden there. She dropped her valuables in a dark corner and covered them with loose hay. That done, she felt her way down a narrow aisle between the piled-up bales and presently crouched in a niche.

With the necessity of action over her the immediate present, Madeline became conscious that she was quivering and almost breathless. Her skin felt tight and cold. There was a weight on her chest; her mouth was dry, and she had a strange tendency to swallow. Dull sounds came from parts of the house remote from her. In the intervals of silence between these sounds she heard the quacking and rustling of rice in the hay. A mouse ran over her hand.

She listened, waiting, hoping, yet dreading to hear the clattering approach of her cowboys. There could be fighting—blood—men injured, people killed. Even the thought of violence of any kind hurt her. But perhaps the guerrillas would run in time to avoid a clash with her men. She hoped for that, prayed for it. Through her mind flitted what she knew of Nels, of Monty, of Nick Steele; and she experienced a sensation that left her suddenly chilled and sick. Then she thought of the dark-mowed, freckled stranger. She felt a thrill drive away the cold unseen. And her excitement quieted.

Waiting, listening, dreading all her emotions. Nothing appeared to be happening. Yet hours seemed to pass while she crouched there. Had there been a certain? Could any of those lean horses outrun Madeline? she doubted it; she knew it could not be true. Nevertheless, the strain of uncertainty was torturing.

Suddenly the bang of the corridor door pierced her through and through with the sound of uncertainty. Some of the guerrillas had entered the east wing of the house. She heard a babel of jabbering voices, the shuffling of boots and clinking of spurs the clomping of hoofs and rattling of spurs. Madeline lost faith in her hiding place. Moreover, she found it impossible to take the chance. The idea of being caught in that dark room by those ruffians filled her with horror. She must get out into the light. Swiftly she rose and went to the window. It was rather more of a door than a window, being a large aperture closed by two wooden doors on hinges. The iron bolts yielded readily to her grasp, and one door stuck fast, while the other opened a few inches. She looked out upon a green slope covered with flowers and bushes of sage and daisies. Neither man nor horse showed in the narrow field of her vision. She believed she would be safer hidden out there in the shrubbery than in the house. The trap from the window would be easy for her.

She pulled at the door. It did not budge. It had caught at the bottom, pulling with all her might proved to be in vain. Pushing with palms hot and bruised, she leaped a ladder, close against the frame of her home. Fear, wrath, and impotence contended for supremacy over her and drove her to desperation. She was alone here, and she must rely on herself. And as she strained every muscle to move that obstinate door and heard the quick, harsh voices of men and the sounds of a hurried search she suddenly felt sure that they were hunting for her. She knew it. She did not wonder at it. But she wondered if she were really Madeline Hamilton, and if it were possible that brutal men would harm her. Then the tramping of heavy feet on the floor of the adjoining room lent her the last strength of fear. Pushing with hands and shoulders, she moved the door far enough to permit the passage of her body. Then she dropped upon the sill and slipped through the aperture. She saw no one. Lightly she jumped down and ran in among the bushes. But these did not afford her the cover she needed. She stole from one clump to another, finding too late that she had chosen with poor judgment. The position of the bushes had drawn her closer to the front of the house rather than away from it, and just before her were horses, and beyond a group of excited men. With her heart in her throat Madeline crouched down.

BARNES FORMALLY CHARGED WITH THE MURDER OF HIS WIFE

Without uttering a word or showing the least sign of emotion, John Barnes, Uniontown labor leader, listened to the preliminary testimony against him Monday afternoon before Alderman J. J. Michael of Uniontown charging him with the murder of his wife and was committed to the county jail without bail to await trial at the June term of court.

Formal charge of murder was made against him Saturday by County Detective John J. Russell and Constable Edwin Holmes read the warrant to him in the county jail.

Leaving on the bars of his cell, he uttered not a single word. When the constable had finished the service he added, "John, you are in an awful fix." To which Barnes replied with a single word, "Yes," and then reclined on his bunk. It was the first information he had of his wife's death.

Prior to that time he had expressed the hope that he would be able to fix things up with her but lamented the fact that she had not called to see him and he was rather doubtful as to the outcome of his case.

ALL WORN OUT

Does morning find you with a lame, stiff and aching back? Are you tired all the time—and work a burden? Have you suspected your kidneys? Connellsville people endorse Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbor. You can rely on their statements.

Mrs. P. Lopley, 619 York Ave., Connellsville, says: "I had kidney disorder and I was troubled with backache. My kidneys acted irregularly and I usually had a tired listless feeling and I was run down. Doan's Kidney Pills had been used in the family with good results and after I used them I noticed a great improvement in my kidneys. Doan's are a beneficial kidney remedy and I am pleased to recommend them." (Statement given August 8, 1913.)

On December 9, 1922 Mrs. Lopley said: "Several years ago I had backache, caused by the bad condition my kidneys were in. Doan's Kidney Pills drove away every symptom and I was cured."

How To Sleep 3-IN-A-BED

YES, it CAN be done—but not like this.

The trouble is, most people go to bed with "something" on the mind—or ON THE STOMACH. The answer is, no matter what the day has brought forth to upset your mind and digestive organs, take Beecham's Pills when you retire.

Though in no sense a "sleeping potion," this 80-year famous household medicine so harmonizes the system that you can sleep in quiet and perfect rest, even in two feet of bed space.

Beecham's Pills are an efficient and harmless for children as for adults—sweetening the stomach, invigorating digestion and stirring liver and bowels to natural activity.
